It is not likely that your assistance will be solicited on the bill. In fact, you may be asked to leave while the bill is being considered. Should you be questioned at any point on the bill itself, however, the following is a brief summary of what we understand at this point may be in it.

It appears that the Members will adopt with little discussion a draft bill prepared by staff. There are no items in that draft which are controversial or are of major concern to the Agency.
